MEXICO SHOVED ASIDE
UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—The acceptance by the United States of the proposal of General Carranza for the creation of a commission to adjust the differences between this country and Mexico was declared in well informed circles today, will operate to postpone until after the November election a solution of the Mexican problem.

It was asserted that Mexico can not be composed nor her condition improved by the determination of the matters suggested by General Carranza for consideration and recommendation by the commission. The withdrawal of the American troops, Carranza's first condition, will leave the area evacuated, denuded of forces competent to deal with Villistas. It was stated.

The decision as to the second question to be submitted to the commission, the placing of responsibility for the border raids, it was pointed out, can not better Mexico's affairs, as the responsibility for the raids is known already to both the de facto government and the state department. The third duty of the commission, to settle the differences arising from the Francisco Villa gathers about him a border raids, it was asserted, probably will devolve later upon a mixed commission, or will be submitted to arbitrators. As neither the United States or Mexico is bound to accept the findings of the commission, its character will be wholly advisory and it is expected that months will pass before it will report its findings, even if no untoward event occurs to disrupt it. Authorities here are confident that it will not be able to adjust the grievances of the United States or to perfect a workable plan for the satisfactory settlement of the whole issue between the two countries.

The present condition in Mexico, it is said, is such that general famine is likely to set in at any time. The people can not plant crops because of revolutionary activity, and practically all banks have gone out of business on account of the small value of Carranza's paper money.

The Carranza currency is reported to be depreciating rapidly, while he and his associates are becoming richer through the fact that they compel foreign corporations to accept the de facto currency, while they pay their obligations in gold.

It is expected that there will be no difficulty encountered by the commission in obtaining President Wilson's assent to the withdrawal of the American expedition from Mexico unless the differences arising from the Francisco Villa gathers about him a border raids, it was asserted, probably ranza troops sent against him and he should descend again upon the American frontier. This possibility is not regarded as remote. The Mexican embassy is awaiting further word from General Carranza before proceeding with Acting Secretary Polk to arrange details as to the personnel and place and time of meeting of the commission. There is a possibility that Carranza will object to the extension of the commission's powers to include matters other than the three named by him.

LOGAN COUNTY BEE NOTES.

A though it is hot bees are doing good work and bringing in honey by the load all over the county.

I. B. Arnold, northwest of Guthrie, cuts a bee-tree and gets 30 pounds of honey and puts the bees in a patent hive.

Bees are as busy making honey as candidates are getting an office.

T. S. Smith at Lawrie, transfers 5 boxes of bees to patent hives.

Save your best honey in exhibit at the fair.

Remember a prize will be given at the Cimarron Valley fair for the largest exhibit of honey made by one colony of bees.—Montague.

MERCHANT SHIPS ARE GRABBED BY BRITISH

London, Aug. 1.—Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, informed the house of commons today that 144 vessels flying the flag of hostile countries were seized in British ports, 12 in French ports, 39 in Russian ports and 59 in Italian ports. All the ships seized in British and Italian ports, he said, were now being employed.

A considerable number of vessels also had been captured on the high seas, the minister said, while 71 hostile steamers and three sailing ships were seized by Portugal. The latter will be employed when repairs have been completed.

GRABS POST UNDER WATER, ARREST FOLLOWS SCREAM

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 1.—Carl Cohn admits he made an awful mistake. He was diving at Diversey beach and when he opened his eyes under the water he saw something he told the court afterwards he thought was a post.

He grabbed it. It was not a post, but a woman's leg. She was Miss May Brown. She had him arrested and he was arraigned in the Chicago avenue court yesterday.

He lives at 820 South Winchester avenue. Miss Brown didn't appear and the judge discharged Cohn, telling him to look twice hereafter before he grabbed at anything under water.

LIBEL DECISION
FAVORS STATE

An interesting suit for damages that was tried in the lower courts and appealed to the supreme court, has been decided in the latter tribunal, at an opinion by Judge Hooker, of the supreme court. The case was that of Joseph Collins against the Oklahoma State hospital for the insane. It was for damages for libel in placing a white person in the ward for negroes and certain correspondence growing out of that transaction.

The court in deciding the case says: "A cause of action for libel can not be maintained against a hospital for the insane on account of its officers and employees in placing a white patient in that part of the institution set aside and used for colored patients."

HEAT SENDS ELEPHANTS
ON WILD RAMPAGE

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 1.—Seven elephants broke loose from the keepers in a street circus parade given at Lagrange, Ind., yesterday morning following a scare which was caused by one of the beasts when overcome by the heat, which went up to 102 degrees. Damage was done to half a dozen buggies and the porch of a local photographer's shop was wrecked. The wife of the photographer became frantic and is in a serious condition.

A posse of men armed with pitchforks and guns was quickly gathered together and succeeded in capturing five of the runaways. Two animals are still at large somewhere between Lagrange and Shipewanna.

SAW "GHOST OF DEATH" THROUGH
HAZE OF BOOZEDINER BECAME TERROR-
STRICKEN WHEN VISION
APPEARS

Wichita, Aug. 1.—When a traveling agent announced that he had seen the "ghost of death" and believed he was about to die as he sat in a North Street cafe late Saturday, alarmed cafe employees summoned the Lacey & Martin ambulance.

When the ambulance was at the cafe door the man ran outside and jumped into the vehicle without assistance.

"Harry," he said. "I have seen the ghost for several nights," he declared at the hospital, according to attendants. He complained of great misery. It appeared to be the belief of the man that all of his relatives who had died were forewarned of approaching death by an appearance of a white-garbed ghost.

He was thumped and prodded in thorough examination, but nothing was found to support the warning of the "ghost." He was advised not to touch intoxicants.

"I'll not," he said fervently. After the ordeal of examination was over and it was established that the "ghost" had been mistaken, the man asked the ambulance men to return him to his hotel, the Hamilton. He was driven back, not so quickly as he went hospitalward, and deposited within a half block of the hotel. He said he did not care to alarm hotel people by having the ambulance drive on to the door with him.

lection of nominees of the different parties for minor state offices. According to reports, the vote is not heavy.

Of chief interest in today's primary is the proposed amendment to the state constitution which would prohibit property qualification, but imposing a literacy test for electors. Approval of this amendment by the voters would deprive citizens who cannot read or write any section of the state constitution of the right to vote or to be eligible to read any state office. A heavy vote, it was expected, would be polled on this amendment.
